Idaho Coalition Principles of Engaging Voices, Creating Change

The Idaho Coalition Against Sexual & Domestic Violence's mission is to engage voices to create change in the prevention, intervention, and response to domestic violence, dating abuse, stalking, and sexual assault. As a program or organizational member, we invite you to read our principles of engaging voices and creating change and to join our large, and growing, membership that has signed on to these principles.

Engaging Voices

- Everyone is part of the solution or has the power to create change

The Idaho Coalition believes that everyone has the power to create change in the prevention, intervention, and response to domestic violence, dating abuse, stalking, and sexual assault and in creating a future free of violence.

- Inclusive and Diverse

The Idaho Coalition believes that all forms of oppression – including but not limited to sexism, racism, ableism, classism, ageism, adultism, heterosexism, and religions oppression – create a culture which enables violence to occur. The Idaho Coalition values inclusiveness and diversity and believes that the voices and experiences of all human beings are vital in preventing violence.

- Meaningful Collaboration

The Idaho Coalition believes that no one organization offers all the solutions to the prevention, intervention, and response to domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault and is forging new collaborations, coming together with a wide range of partners and creating new approaches.

Creating Change

- Violence is Preventable

The Idaho Coalition believes violence is preventable and that all individuals have the right to healthy relationships demonstrated by respect, safety, equality, mutuality, individuality, support, acceptance, and caring and the right to live a safe, thriving, and meaningful life without fear or the threat of violence.

- Capacity Building

The Idaho Coalition believes in comprehensive, integrated and multi-disciplinary approaches that are well designed, and reflect and respond to diverse community needs and assets.

- Social Change

The Idaho Coalition believes in being a highly adaptive organization, receptive to outside signals, agile enough to change course, and flexible enough to respond to new opportunities in order to stay relevant, effective, and achieve far-reaching outcomes and change social norms to support equality and safety.
