with Connie Burk of the NW Network

Monday	August 8th
9:00– 11:00 AM	Welcome, Introductions, and Agenda Overview Themes, Praxis, Language, Self Determination This workshop reviews the NW Network’s domestic violence analysis and sets the frame for understanding domestic violence through an LGBTQ lens. This workshop is a must for tackling in-depth issues and helps advocates, line staff and managers alike deepen their understanding of domestic violence and increase their ability to effectively support survivors of abuse.
11:00 – 12:15PM	Six Lessons of LGBT Survivors This workshop gives an overview of what the NW Network has learned from our work with lesbian, bisexual, trans and gay survivors of abuse: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1) What Survivors Do Matters (See “Framing workshop”)2) Assessment is Necessary (See “Assessment Workshop”)3) Go Beyond the Power & Control Wheel4) Safety Planning is A Verb5) Engage The Community6) Dayanu v’ lo Dayanu (It Is & It Isn’t Enough)
Working Lunch
1:00- 3:00pm	Beyond the Wheel This workshop addresses basic information about LGBTQ vulnerabilities to isolation and abuse. Long term safety planning, increasing support from friends & family, working with survivors who are in relationship or contact with an abusive person, and a model for understanding how various LGBT contexts may be manipulated in abusive relationships are covered in this training.
