Formerly of Twin Falls, Robert Cassidy Hansen, 27, died Thursday evening when police were forced to fire their weapons during a traffic stop, Boise Police said in a statement. Hansen was pronounced dead at the scene. Cassidy Hansen was riding in the back seat of a Cadillac driven by his girlfriend on 27th Street near Fairview Avenue in Boise when she was stopped by police for a canceled registration, his sister said. Police say he pulled out a gun and pointed it at the officers, himself and the driver, who police have not named. Officers shut down traffic and ordered him to drop the gun. Fearing for the driver's safety, officers A. Crist and K. Zubizarreta, both 10-year veterans of the Boise Police Department, each fired one shot, according to police. Cassidy Hansen was in and out of jail — or on the run — most of his adult life. At 20, he was arrested for aggravated driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an injury accident and domestic battery. He was convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

She was the mother of a 2-month-old boy. Two women who were with Larsen during the attack, Chelsea Larsen, 27, and Julianna Flowers, 57, were also stabbed and required surgery, according to the sheriff's office. The three women, along with three small children, were at a house in the 7500 block of Edgebrook Drive in Nampa when Evan C. She said that Mueller got angry and physically aggressive with her about once a month. Mueller was charged again two weeks later, this time with violating a no-contact order against Skeahan.

Meister left his own residence at 10pm the night of the shooting, went to Hart's home and shot her when she answered the door. He fled the scene and disposed of the gun in a garbage can and later discarded his clothes and shoes. Linderman initially did not admit to any involvement in Hart's death, but investigators believed he wanted to end their relationship and feared the reaction from Hart and her father.
